This is a non-fiction book about a man who can astral travel to many interesting dimensions. Jurgen Ziewe documents his adventures on the astral plane in a journal-type format. It is definitely mind-bending. Some of his experiences were easy to read and understand and others not so much, at least for my linear way of thinking!

Exert from Multidimensional Man “The first comparison with an Earth town that sprang to mind was the seaside resort of Port Meiron on the Welsh coast, but this was far more wealthy in imaginative architectural detail, and, oddly, more quaint. There was so much unusual design that it was impossible to focus on individual elements.

Exert taken from Multidimensional Man: “Surprisingly, it has taken science quite a long time to realise that we are part of a multiple-universe. It is the same paradigm shift for our perception as the discoveries of fire, the wheel and that the Earth is a sphere and revolves around the sun.

This is a literary book of poems and prose to enhance doers and thinkers too see how you can perceive your life through love. Love is the chief cornerstone of all things known and unknown. Knowingly, with love, life (your present life), can blossom into beauty, joy, creativity, art, form, substance, and a myriad of personal experiences that can be felt and appreciated during your lifetime. As a man of African and Native American decent, I wanted gather all the text(s) of the downtrodden American citizen and literally find an answer and a solution worth it's weight in gold. That, my friend, is the vortex of inner love. By first loving yourself and using love as your conscious inner vortex, any person, especially the black man in America can use this solution in his life to tell a new story. My late spouse of twenty-eight (28) years, Remelle Lumpkins, ask; "why can't a black man tell a personal life occurrence without playing on the ills of the American society against him." My confession and personal thrust into well being as a citizen of America is to infuse love into all the changes of the downtrodden motif and now speak about the wonderful book of poems and prose called, "Multidimensional Love." As you will see with my poetic life, living in the present with love has a value more precious than gold. PEACE. Charles Lumpkins author of "Multidimensional Love"

Multidimensional Analytical Techniques in Environmental Research is a comprehensive resource on the many multidimensional analytical strategies to qualitatively and quantitatively assess and map the organic and inorganic pollutants in complex atmospheric, water and soil matrices. During the past two decades, the rapidly-evolving field of analytical instrumentation has produced sophisticated multidimensional tools capable of providing unique and in-depth knowledge on the chemical features of complex mixtures from these different environmental matrices. This book brings together the wealth of information in the current literature, assisting in the decision-making process by covering both the fundamentals and applications of these methodologies. Sections cover the wide variety of multidimensional analytical techniques, including multidimensional solution- and solid-state nuclear magnetic resonance (NMR) spectroscopy, ultrahigh-resolution mass spectrometry (MS), two-dimensional correlation spectroscopy, two-dimensional liquid and gas chromatography and capillary electrophoresis coupled to high-resolution detection techniques, and excitation-emission (EEM) fluorescence spectroscopy assisted by multiway data analysis tools, and the use of synchrotron-radiation-based techniques combined with other spectroscopic approaches to explore and map the speciation of elements. Identifies state-of-the-art multidimensional analytical methods for targeted and untargeted profiling of complex mixtures from different environmental matrices (soil, sediment, water, and air) Assesses the advantages and limitations of the most modern and sophisticated multidimensional analytical methods in environmental research Highlights the current challenges and potential future directions in the application of multidimensional analytical tools to advance the current understanding on the dynamics and fate of environmental pollutants in different environmental matrices

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER Shortlisted for the Financial Times/McKinsey Business Book of the Year Award The unbelievable story of a secretive mathematician who pioneered the era of the algorithm--and made $23 billion doing it. Jim Simons is the greatest money maker in modern financial history. No other investor--Warren Buffett, Peter Lynch, Ray Dalio, Steve Cohen, or George Soros--can touch his record. Since 1988, Renaissance's signature Medallion fund has generated average annual returns of 66 percent. The firm has earned profits of more than $100 billion; Simons is worth twenty-three billion dollars. Drawing on unprecedented access to Simons and dozens of current and former employees, Zuckerman, a veteran Wall Street Journal investigative reporter, tells the gripping story of how a world-class mathematician and former code breaker mastered the market. Simons pioneered a data-driven, algorithmic approach that's sweeping the world. As Renaissance became a market force, its executives began influencing the world beyond finance. Simons became a major figure in scientific research, education, and liberal politics. Senior executive Robert Mercer is more responsible than anyone else for the Trump presidency, placing Steve Bannon in the campaign and funding Trump's victorious 2016 effort. Mercer also impacted the campaign behind Brexit. The Man Who Solved the Market is a portrait of a modern-day Midas who remade markets in his own image, but failed to anticipate how his success would impact his firm and his country. It's also a story of what Simons's revolution means for the rest of us.
