Trees are a classic
photography subject.

Besides being
beautiful, they work
great in a wide range
of moods, conditions,
and genres. They're photogenic in all kinds of weather, from
heavy snow to
scorching heat, and
they work great as the

If you have ever been
to a forest and tried to take photos, you
probably know that it

is not that easy to take a picture that does it justice.

Forests are dark and
have high contrasts of
very deep shadows
and bright highlights.
The leaves scatter the
light, and as a forest
is usually not neat
and tidy it can be hard to find a composition
that works.
